

Healing The Heart

The Heart is Key.

The fundamental basis of this healing is working with the heart chakra to move through the 3 vibrations of love; love, unconditional love and compassion. The reason for this is that the heart is the Master Chakra, it delegates the wellbeing of all the chakras within the body and by default, the wellness of the body, the mind and the emotions and then ultimately the birthing of the spiritual self. We do this in this healing modality by connecting with the Golden Angelic Ray of Healing and the vibration of compassion from the Lyran Gateway and bringing it into the etheric body via the Soul Star Chakra and then down throughout the whole chakra system and into the physical body via the glandular system. We will show you how to do this when we go through the healing procedures.

The heart is the key to self-mastery not only for you as a spiritual worker but also for your clients, except as a spiritual worker you will be pushed to heal your heart at a faster rate.

“While the other 6 chakras absorb their gridding and electromagnetic technology from the Global Grid Matrix, the heart chakra absorbs its technology from the crystallised core of the earth, which it then filters directly into the physical heart. The geometric coding system of the heart chakra not only determines the health of the physical heart and its adjoining anatomy, such as the thymus gland (immune system) and lungs, but also determines which of its three chambers the body consciousness is running from. “

Yes folks your heart chakra has three chambers and depending on which one you run your consciousness from vibrates a different colour for each! For about 99% of humanity only the first chamber of the heart chakra is operating, and it vibrates the colour green and stimulates the emotion of love, love for your family, love for your pets.

The second chamber of the heart resonates the frequency of the pink ray and stimulates the emotion of unconditional love. Those who are working towards self-mastery and embodying the emotion of unconditional love are tapping into this chamber. When this chamber of the chakra is functioning all 7 internal chakras then begin running at a higher frequency, enabling us to reach beyond space and time to access higher levels of consciousness. As the chakra spins in this situation it vibrates pink.

As a person moves onto self-mastery, living in higher consciousness, being of service to humanity, birthing Christ consciousness etc the third chamber of the heart opens and vibrates divine blue light and compassion. Only a handful of people on Earth at this time have mastered to this level, it takes time, dedication and a lot of self-work. Christ Consciousness and embodying compassion is not something you can attain by sitting a weekend course, you will need to embody the teachings and live them.

If we tap into this higher aspect of self we become master healers, teachers and channellers. We are also able to grid, anchor and access the frequencies that enable us to be beacons of light in the support of others. We embody the I AM presence and become master initiates, creating positive change in the world around us.

YHWH Heart Centre Meditation

In the same way that the “Ohm” is a vibrational tool that perfects the electromagnetic field of the heart, “YHWH” is a vibrational tool that can help us attain enlightenment. “YHWH” is the Hebrew word for God. It means “I am that I am”.

THE GEOMETRIC FREQUENCY OF THE WORD YHWH CREATES A PERFECT SOUND VIBRATION THAT SUPPORTS THE THREE CHAMBERS OF THE HEART CHAKRA TO OPEN AND INTEGRATE WITH THE OTHER CHAKRAS: IT AWAKENS OUR CONNECTION TO THE I AM PRESENCE:

YHWH is the sound or word that unlocks all three chambers of the heart chakra so the rest of the chakra system can function at its optimum frequency. The upper chakra system integrates with the lower chakras through the trinity of the heart chakra, evolving the Lower Self into the Higher Self. When functioning together and in harmony with the main chakras, these three chambers create Christ Consciousness; a state of consciousness that reflects absolute truth, unconditional love and compassion. In this state of consciousness, we can experience revelations.

A revelation is a divinely-orchestrated realisation obtained from a heart-based perspective. Through it we become conscious of a core knowing or absolute truth. By saying this Hebrew word while in a state of meditation, a level of perfection is templated into all the seven main chakras simultaneously. This enables the etheric/physical body to access the necessary codes to receive a revelation.

This meditation supports fifth dimensional consciousness as we are compelled to purify the illusions of the mind and ego. This enables us to see absolute truth in the moment, and to then embody it with faith and trust. This is the key to our integration with the fifth dimensional reality.

Venus

Venus the Planet

We will be connecting with the planet Venus in your advanced angelic healing through the use of the Venus symbol which is used throughout the world to denote the divine Feminine. Venus has been traditionally associated with the Goddess Venus who symbolises love and beauty and represented the feminine in nature. There is a little-known reason for this that has its place in science! Interestingly the Mayan civilisations associated Venus with War, maybe they had difficult relationships with their wives!!

The energetic role of Venus in humanity

Venus as it spins sings a tone, Nasa have recorded it, there is some special way of recording the electromagnetic output of a planet and turning it into sound as apparently sound doesn't travel in space as there is no atmosphere. The tone it sings is the note G, G is the tone of the throat chakra when it spins at optimum frequency, but it is also the tone that the heart chakra makes when the third chamber is opened, and it is vibrating compassion, both working together. So, when we work with the Venus symbol procedure we will working not only on the throat chakra but also the heart chakra. When our throat and heart chakra work together we communicate from a place of love and wisdom, we are opened to universal knowledge and wisdom via our upper chakras.

The Power of Symbols

A symbol is a visual image or sign representing an idea or concept, it is an indicator of a universal truth that is often hidden at first glance to the viewer. Symbols have been used throughout history to represent huge spiritual concepts, the sacred knowledge was protected and hidden through the symbols, for example when Christians were facing persecution they used the symbol of the fish to identify themselves as Christians, but this knowledge was kept safe within themselves. On one level the symbol was a fish and the hidden meaning behind it was that it represented Christianity and the Age of Pisces (the time when Jesus was born). We call that having an exoteric (external) AND an esoteric (internal meaning).

The Venus Symbol

Venus Symbol Meanings

The Venus symbol meaning is a combination of the circle and the cross.

Visually this symbol speaks to us on two levels: Spiritual and Material.

The circle reminds us of the inclusive nature of our universe. Here there is no exclusion. Only inclusion. All is welcome, and all is ever-expanding.

Spirituality holds hands with this same inclusive concept. The mystic mind never pushes away, but always embraces what is. And, at the base of all inclusion is the vibrating construct of love.

The cross represents the 4 elements of creation earth, air, fire, water, and at their centre of the cross where all 4 meet is the birthing point of matter. It rests beneath the womb (represented by the circle in the Venus symbol). The location of the cross under the circle indicates all matter is birthed from a spiritually inclusive, loving womb.

The Venus symbol also represents duality. On the top half we feel the openness and inclusivity (circle). Yet, on the lower half we experience a narrowing, or a "coming to the crux." Visually you can see opening and closing, beginnings and endings, in this symbol.

That duality of Venus is underscored by her placement in the skies as both the "morning star" (as it rises in the east) and the "evening star" (setting in the west).

The Venus symbol meaning deals with:

- Love
- Allure
- Desire
- Beauty
- Passion
- Harmony
- Affection
- Sexuality
- Creativity
- Attraction
- Inspiration
- Femininity
- Aesthetics
- Imagination
- Appreciation
- Relationships
- Unification of opposites

Further symbolism comes from the Roman goddess Venus (Aphrodite = Greek) whose (in the most popular version of myth) presence churned forth from the frothy seas. Gentle sea breezes moved the lovely Venus to her final destination, Cyprus where she is said to scintillate with the amorous powers.

Interestingly, the Venus symbol is also an alchemical elemental symbol for copper and Cyprus was a major exporter of the copper. It's also symbolic of light as copper was used to make mirrors because of its reflective, luminous qualities.

Animal Associations with Venus symbol meaning:

- Dove: Because the goddess Venus herself is associated with the soft, gentle nature of the dove - which also connects with themes of love, purity and renewal.
- Serpent: Because copper is associated with the snake and copper shares its physical properties with Venus. Snakes carry symbolism of sensuality, creativity and fertility which are also associated with the Venus symbol meaning.
- Lizards and reptiles: Because of Venus' (the planet) rising and setting natures. Lizards rise with the morning warmth and retreat (set) as the evening does. These creatures are also symbolic of duality, and thus another connection to the dual nature of Venus symbol meaning.
- Cow: Because of Venus' relationship with Taurus, the sign of the bull. Also, the cow is a sacred symbol of fertility for countless ancient cultures. It is the provider, the patient, the nurturer of life. Interestingly, the ancient (love, sex, war) goddess Ishtar was worshipped in the island of Cyprus. And, as mentioned earlier, copper was the major export of Cyprus in ancient times (copper is identified by the Venus symbol). Bull masks were often worn for fertility ritual by the ancient people of Cyprus.
- Fish and Shells: According to myth (and the famous painting by Botticelli) Venus emerged from and is associated with the seas sailing on a half shell. This fits in nicely with water being symbolic of emotion and love. Ergo, creatures of the sea will be natural animals associated with Venus.
- Swan: The swan is a symbol of love, purity and grace and so is associated with the deific qualities of Venus (Ishtar, Aphrodite, Astarte, etc). Also associated with water, the swan rides gently on the waves of emotion. The swan also holds themes of duality like Venus because it is a creature of both the waters (also symbolic of openness and the womb like we see in the circle top of the Venus symbol) and a creature of the earth (firmament and the realm of matter as seen in the cross portion of the Venus symbol).

Stones associated with Venus symbolism:

- Turquoise = Boosts receptivity, attraction of desire and protection
- Sapphire = Warms the blood, ignites the body
- Emerald = Enhances healing, augments nature-inspired wisdom

- Jade = Safe journeying, grounding, attraction of monetary stability

Plants and Flowers Associated with Venus Symbol and Venus Symbol Meaning

- Rose: For obvious reasons, the goddess Venus is associated with rose for its symbolism of beauty, vitality, life, passion and love.
- Palm: Because of Venus' themes of fertility and growth it is associated with the palm because this tree is considered a symbol of fertility too. Also, the palm spreads out like a star, and the orbit pattern of Venus can be traced in a perfect pentagram.
- Rowan: Continuing with the pentagram orbit pattern of Venus, the rowan is also a carrier of the pentagram on the underside of its berries. This reinforces the theme of perfecting balance and unifying harmonies.
- Apple: Also a carrier of the pentagram, and so affiliated with Venus, the apple also beams with symbolism of love, romance, beauty and an appreciation of art, poetry and beauty. Also symbolic of fertility and nourishment.
- Lily: Because of its connotations of purity, cleansing and loveliness, the lily is a perfect match to the goddess aspects of Venus.

Miscellany associations with Venus and further Venus symbol meaning

- The pentagram is the sign of Venus (the planet) because of its orbit pattern. In the span of time it takes to come full circle of her trajectory (four years), her path traces the outline of the five-pointed star. This gives further fuel to the pentagram as a symbol of harmony, love and perfect union.
- Venus is almost exclusively deemed feminine, including in Asian traditions where Venus is associated with yin energy. However, ancient Incans understood Venus (the planet and persona) to be masculine and a protector of the moon. Because of its luminosity in the skies it was associated with bright virility and proffered wise counsel to the sun within the sentient cosmos.
- Mayans used Venus as a basis for their intricate systems of time, and the planet was a foundation to establish their calendars. The planet Venus was represented by Quetzalcoatl which plays nicely with the theme of duality I've been discussing in this article. Quetzalcoatl (Mayan god of wind) blew Venus out of existence in the west and then revived the planet in the east. This is analogous of the rising and setting of the planet, carrying themes of duality, life, death and rebirth.
- The planet Venus is associated with the colors green and red.
- Venus corresponds with Friday in the days of the week

- Venus is associated with the Empress card as well as the Lovers card in the language of Tarot.
- Its numerological correspondence is four and six.
